

POLITICAL DISCUSSION

Minority Leader Engages in Debate With Republican Members of the House.

MR. SPOONER ON THE CANAL

He Defends the President and Is Frequently Interrupted by Mr. Morgan.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The House today passed the fortifications appropriation bill. The Philippine question was the subject of a brief but spirited discussion while the bill was under consideration.

An item in the bill provided for fortifications in the insular possessions. Mr. Spooner (Democrat, Kentucky) proposed an amendment to preclude the use of any part of the appropriations for fortifications in the Philippines, holding that an expenditure of the sum necessary properly to fortify the islands was not warranted until the future of the archipelago shall have been determined. A paragraph of the proposition immediately followed. Mr. Williams (Mississippi), the minority leader, taking up the fight for the amendment. He said the dominant power had not yet declared itself as to the future of the islands, and that he did not want the lesson taught that one people might rule another people.

Mr. Spooner (New York) and Mr. Smith (Iowa), on the Republican side, seconded Mr. Spooner's amendment. Mr. Spooner, who was in charge of the bill, in opposition to the amendment, declaring that the use of the money for the purpose of affording protection to the people of the Philippine Islands. By a strict party vote of 80 to 82 the Smith amendment was lost.

Mr. Robinson (Democrat, Indiana) made an unsuccessful attempt to secure an amendment to prevent the use of any portion of the money appropriated for Langley air ship experiments.

Political Discussion.
The general debate on the bill developed into a political discussion. Mr. Hill (Republican, Connecticut) started it by asking what Democracy stands for, addressing himself chiefly to Mr. Williams (Mississippi), and taking occasion to criticize the Democratic assignments on the committee. Mr. Williams assumed full responsibility for the amendment among the minority, and comparison of conditions North and South resulted.

Mr. Williams said any one who looked over the South and saw the conditions there, as he advanced manhood suffrage there, was either a fool, because he did not understand, or a knave, because, understanding, he did not care. This was greeted with applause on the Democratic side. Mr. Williams said there was as much trouble at elections in the South as in the North. He discussed many phases of the subject, sustaining the course of the President throughout. He contended for the superiority of the Panama route over that of Nicaragua. He was frequently interrupted by Mr. Morgan.

Early in the day, Mr. Tillman filed a motion to reconsider the vote of last Monday, by which the bill to grant $100,000 to former Queen Liliuokalani was defeated, but further consideration of the question was not pressed at the time.

The Senate adjourned until Saturday on account of Mr. Hanna's funeral, which takes place to-morrow.

Mr. Spooner found a strong argument in favor of the Panama route in the fact that a sea level canal is feasible at Panama.

Mr. Morgan took issue with the statement relative to a sea level canal, contending that the tides in the vicinity are such as to render a level waterway almost out of the question.

Mr. Morgan declared that two canals, one of them at Nicaragua, could be built as economically as could one tidewater canal at Panama.

"And," said Mr. Spooner, interrupting, "I have no doubt that when the time comes, Nicaragua and Costa Rica will be delighted to make the proper concessions."

"You don't know," replied Mr. Morgan, "that they will be delighted, but they can be compelled to do so."

"By the use of guns," Mr. Spooner suggested.

Mr. Morgan responded by saying that such an agreement could be secured by this government "as easily as it could build a new republic at Panama."

Mr. Spooner defended the President against the charge that he had violated the Spooner act in failing to take the Nicaragua route when Colombia failed to accept the Hay-Herran treaty. If he had taken that course, Mr. Spooner declared that there would have been no senators to receive the President "for his strenuous haste in turning his back on a route in favor of which Congress had made a solemn declaration."

"You don't know," replied Mr. Morgan, "that they will be delighted, but they can be compelled to do so."
